

Alien Escape

Years went by, peaceful for the Jonas family - it was like world peace. It was one day that seemed peculiar for the household. They had a big feeling that their peacefulness was going to end. The sky went purple, cloudy mist engulfed them; they were in grave danger. Emerging from the sky appeared to be a creature, never seen by mankind. Aliens to your left... aliens to your right.

Clueless, the Jonas family had no time to amuse these mythical creatures. They had one option: Run! These aliens looked vicious, deadly. Wasting all their energy, they came to a halt. "Who are you?" questioned the mum barely able to get her words out. Fear bolted through the four of them; tears ran down their eyes. They knew one thing... they were going to die!

Synchronised, the family fell to the ground accepting their death. Unexpectedly, the aliens answered, "We're not here to kill you, we're here to live with you."

The Jonas' heavy breathing began to calm down; they sighed of relief. But then they remembered what the alien said which caused the dad to say,

"What do you mean, live with us? Where's your home?"

One tiny teardrop ran down the thousands of aliens' eyes. Their home had been raided and taken over.

"I guess we will find another planet... hopefully."

After a pause, the child of the family spoke, "Why do that, if you can live with us?"

"Really?"

"Of course!"

More tears fell down their eyes but this time tears of happiness.

From this day onwards, they had the best life. They thought so...
